Invited Out? Have You the Clothes?

You must have them. If in a hurry, so much the better for us. We fit men in a hurry. And such good clothes. Ready for the social whirl, the theatre, the club, the lodge. Full dress for complete formality, dinner suits for the family circle and stage doings. Lined with rich silk and in the height of style. Only master tailors should ever touch cloth for full dress clothes. Ours are made by the STEIN-BLOCH SMART TAILORS, who have been making them for 50 years so that they fit smooth, show a more striking style and a clearer knowledge of the fine points of clothes-building than the work of any other needlemen in the world, barring a few crack custom shops of New York and London.

WATERFRONT NEWS

THE DEUTSCHLAND, FASTEST OCEAN STEAMSHIP AFLOAT, BOUGHT BY THE RUSSIANS.

LINER SIBERIA IS IN AND OUT

The big Pacific Mail liner Siberia arrived off port from the Orient at 6:30 yesterday morning, and after passing inspection came into the harbor and docked at the Hackfeld wharf. She sailed again for San Francisco at 4 o'clock, and many persons who did not expect to see her until afternoon, at least, had to hustle to get their mail aboard. Nothing of particular interest happened on the trip, good weather being encountered. There were 6664 tons of freight in the steamer's hold, 604 tons of which came out at this port.

There was a jolly crowd of passengers on board, including many well known people. Fifteen Russian naval officers from the Port Arthur fleet, who are returning home on parole, were among the interesting people aboard. Most of the officers of the O. & O. liner Gaelic, which has gone out of the company's service were passengers on the Siberia. They are going back to San Francisco, but further than that none of them know what their next move will be. When the Gaelic went out on her last trip the company notified them that they would be taken care of, but whether they will go out on other vessels or be given positions on the dock at San Francisco none of them was able to say. Among the returning officers are Purser George E. Chapin, Surgeon F. H. Gates, Freight Clerk Alexander Murphy, Storekeeper W. Russell McLellan, Chief Steward W. G. Thompson and a number of the white crew.

Louis Eppinger, the manager of the Grand Hotel of Yokohama, is on a trip to the States.

Dr. F. L. Benton is a surgeon in the United States Navy on his way home. W. C. Johnson is a treasury agent, who has been on a business trip to the Philippines.

An unusually large crowd saw the steamer depart for San Francisco at 4 p. m. The band played and leis were to be seen in profusion. Among the Honolulu people to depart was Immigration Inspector F. M. Bechtel, who goes to a California resort for his health. He is a cripple from inflammatory rheumatism.

Many of the tourists who have spent several weeks or less in Honolulu departed yesterday on the Siberia for San Francisco. Every one went aboard laden with leis and in a regretful mood. They all had had a good time in Honolulu and spoke in the best terms of the hospitality which had made their visit so charming. What with surfing, swimming, dancing, coaching, going to haas and hulas, visiting Hilo and the volcano, listening to the Hawaiian Government Band, and watching steamers depart, the visitors have surely enjoyed themselves.

Among those leaving were Mrs. Adams and Miss Blum of Chicago, Mr. and Mrs. James King and Mrs. Melvin of Chicago, Mr. King being one of Chicago's wealthy men; Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Stephens and Mrs. Marshall of Silverton, Montana; Mr. and Mrs. McKay, E. Westreer and wife, E. S. Hicks, who has been here for some months; Dr. E. L. Colburn, Miss Clapp and Miss Peebles of Los Angeles, Mr. and Mrs. S. Foster Kelly, A. Gartley of the Hawaiian Electric Company went away on business; J. J. Belser goes to the coast on a business trip; N. Kaumanns, the sugar expert from Germany, departed after a long stay in the islands. W. E. Koeh, the Denver mining man, and wife, also departed after an enjoyable stay. Mr. Koeh was very pronounced against the "knockers" who attempt to prevent tourists from taking the trip to the volcano.

JAPANESE MAY BUY GAELIC

The Manila Times of January 17th says: The steamship Gaelic, Captain Beadnell, which arrived Saturday from San Francisco, will probably be sold, as negotiations have been made through the Mitsui Bussan Kaisha with the support of the Japanese Consul, for the purchase of the vessel.

The Nippon Yusen Kaisha intends to establish a fortnightly run between Japan, Australia and Manila and is also making a bid to acquire the steamer. The Gaelic is a large freight carrier besides her ample accommodations for passengers, and in the event that a satisfactory price cannot be obtained from the Japanese lines the ship may be disposed of in Hongkong or returned to her owners, the White Star Line, to go back to the Liverpool and New York run. This is the last trip of the popular ship to Manila, and her officers will leave many friends on this side of the world.

The Korea departs today from San Francisco for the Orient via Honolulu.

INCIDENTS OF LINER'S TRIP

The Russian naval officers on the Siberia were closely watched by the Japanese, according to the stories of those on board the vessel. While they were at Nagasaki, the port at which they embarked, they were allowed to ride about the city in rickshaws, but always in the company of Japanese detectives. This precaution was taken, according to the Japanese, to protect them from violence at the hands of the coolies, who are ignorant and irresponsible. The men received the most courteous treatment at the hands of the Japanese.

At Kobe and Yokohama the officers were not allowed to land at all. Twice as many detectives as usual boarded the Siberia and watched every move of the captured officers. They said that the Russians might look at the city as much as they wished, but they did not want them ashore making sketches and maps. It is said that there are Japanese spies on the liner watching the Russians. It would seem that this is a measure fully justified, for one of the Russian officers of one of the Port Arthur battleships was captured once and paroled. Within a few months he was captured with the survivors of the Rurik and again paroled. This time he also broke his parole, and he was finally captured at Port Arthur.

W. Russell McLellan, former storekeeper of the Gaelic, who is returning with his fellow officers to San Francisco, rejoices in a black beard and moustache. When "Mac," as he is called by his shipmates, started for shore at Yokohama a determined Japanese policeman barred his way. "The Russian officers are not allowed to land," he said, in his politest tones, "Mac" was strictly "up against it" until the police captain came up, and inquiring what the trouble was, said, "Oh, I know you. You were on the Gaelic," and "Mac" went ashore.

As the Siberia sailed last night the Hawaiian Band played the Russian national anthem as a compliment to the Russian officers aboard the ship. As the first strains of the hymn were heard every Russian hat came off and many others removed theirs. Then, as there were some prominent Japanese aboard, the Japanese national anthem was played. The Russians put on their hats at the close of their hymn, but gave no sign of noticing the Japanese hymn. Perhaps they did not recognize it.

Commander, U. S. N., Inspector,

DIDN'T LOSE CHRISTMAS.

As the liner Gaelic on her last voyage to the Orient arrived at the International Date Line on Christmas Eve, it seemed as though the passengers were to be deprived of that holiday. But Captain Finch was not to lose his plum duff, so he called Saturday Friday and skipped Saturday instead of Sunday, which was Christmas, and so saved the day. And as the captain is supreme on board his ship no one doubted the right of Captain Finch to call Saturday Friday or any other old day he wished. Besides, who would want to miss Christmas?

SHIPPING NOTES.

The Likelike sailed last night for Maui and Molokai ports.

The next mail to the coast will go on the Alameda a week from tomorrow. The Siberia on leaving Hongkong twice circled around the Gaelic, saluting her.

The bark Annie Johnson arrived from San Francisco with a general cargo yesterday morning. Captain Nelson reports a rough trip.

The Japanese had a celebration on the Siberia on the 9th, that day being the anniversary of the founding of the present Japanese dynasty.

A stowaway came on the Siberia. He was a Frenchman who deserted from a French frigate at Saigon on account of ill-treatment from the officers.

The Gaelic is lying in Hongkong harbor waiting to be sold. There were rumors before the Siberia sailed that she had been disposed of to the French line, but nothing definite was known.

The officers of the Siberia report that the Mongolian was five days late at Shanghai on her outward trip. Unless her stay at Hongkong is shortened she may not be here on the 24th, as scheduled.

BOTTLED SUNSHINE

Scott's Emulsion brings sunshine to the entire system of the consumptive.

All life is sunshine. The sun pouring its rays into the plant combines earth, water and air into new plant tissue. Sunshine stored up in the plant is its life.

The animal changes plant tissue into animal tissue, changes the stored up sunshine of plant life into animal life.

Fat contains more stored up sunshine than any other form of animal tissue. This is why Scott's Emulsion of pure cod liver oil is literally bottled sunshine, full of rich nourishment and new life for the consumptive.

We'll send you a sample free upon request.
